

THE CONFERENCE OF HISTORICAL JOURNALS

Founded 1983

November 8, 2007

Dear colleague:

Thank you for your participation and for supporting the activities of the Conference of Historical Journals, an association that assists editors, review editors, and other historical-journal professionals. We hope you have enjoyed the networking opportunities, the CHJ listserv, and the newsletter Editing History, by which members share tips on structural support, publicity, submission policies, and procedures.

We invite you to renew your membership in the Conference of Historical Journals for 2008. A renewal form is enclosed; annual dues are $25.

One of the benefits of membership is exposure to members of the history community. Each January, CHJ sponsors a booth at the annual meeting of the American Historical Association. The annual business meeting is held in conjunction with this meeting. The 2008 AHA annual meeting will be held in Washington, D.C., January 3-6. The CHJ meeting will be Saturday, January 5 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Harding Room of the Marriott Wardman Park Hotel; the session includes an open forum on plagiarism, historical journals, and the history profession, followed by the business meeting. Details of the forum and of a joint session with the Association for the Bibliography of History on "Historical Journals, Scholarly Communication, and Open Access" in the hotel's Ballroom Balcony A on Friday, January 4, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. may be found on the AHA website's section on the annual meeting program. We hope to see you at each of these gatherings.

As a member, you are invited to display copies of your journal at the CHJ exhibit booth (#614) at the Wardman Park for a cost of $30.00, as a means of attracting new individual and institutional members. Additionally, the booth provides greater visibility for your organization as well as CHJ as a whole. Enclosed is a booth registration form for your use should you wish to display your journal at the AHA; please note the 12/10/07 deadline for shipping materials. A form for membership/subscription information is enclosed as well; the completed forms will be available at the booth, and you are welcome to send authors' guidelines as well. Please come by the booth as well!

We encourage you to check out our web page: <http://www.uark.edu/depts/histinfo/history/CHJ/>
Thank you for your continuing interest and support. We hope to see you in Washington.

Very truly yours,

President
