

HOW TO USE OUR WEB-SITE

MANAGE YOUR RISK

This project was made possible in part by grants from USDA/CSREES under Award Number 2004-49200-03126 and USDA/RMA under Award Number 071E08310275 - C

The Manage Your Risk web site is an excellent tool to learn more about how to manage risk in your personal or business activities. This web site provide links to PDF files with information about production, finance, marketing, human and legal risk management tools. Also, you can find information about our FREE workshops and links to institutions that can provide more information regarding specific risk management topics. Materials in our web site are in both English and Spanish languages.

The only thing you need to use our web site is a computer with Internet access. If you do not have access to Internet at home generally, your local public library offers this service free of charge. Once you have a computer with Internet access, type the following in the address bar www.manageyourrisk.net. The web site will display the home page of our web site as shown in figure 1.
